they are happy to call themselves H. B. M.'s servants. But she has a special corps of help for her own private convenience. It appears that the number of individuals employed in the personal service of Her Majesty, exclusive of huntsmen, whippers in,

Ac., not enumerated in the department of the Master of the Horse, is as follows: In the department of the Lord Steward, 167; in the department of the Lord Chamberlain, 633; in the department of the Master of the Horse, 119; total 921.

Imposing as is this array, there must be added the household of the Prince Consort. which consists of a groom of the stole, a treasurer, a private secretary, two lords of the bedchamber, a clerk marshal, three equerries in ordinary, and a chaplain at Osborne, a librarian, two gentlemen ushers, two physicians in ordinary, and two extraordinary. four surgeons, in ordinary, two surgeon dentists, and an apothecary, and a gentleman rider; besides an army agent to receive his pay, and a solicitor to conduct his litigation. Adding these the household functionaries muster 965 strong.

In Scotland and Ireland there are two more royal households. The first of these consists of a keeper of the great seal, a lord privy seal, a lord clerk register, a lord advocate, a lord justice clerk, an hereditary grand con-stable, a knight marischal, an hereditary 1 " " 20,000 50 Prizes of 500 stable, a knight marischal, an hereditary master of the household, an hereditary standard bearer, an hereditary armor bearer and squire of the royal body (Lady Seyron Stewart) an hereditary carver, an hereditary cup bearer, an hereditary usher, (heirs of the late Sir Patrick Walker,) an historiographer, three physicians in ordinary, and a physi-cian acconcher, three surgeons in ordinary. two surgeon dentists, two chemists and druggists, a cupper in ordinary, and an oculist, three deans and six chaplains, six hereditary keepers of palaces (nearly all mere rains,) and a body guard of royal archers, commanded by a captain-general, three lieutenant-generals and four major-generals.

The Irish household, which is formed on the English model, has among its functionaries two persons described as "gentlemen at large," whose duties must be left to the imagination.

MOTTOES OF THE STATES.

Three States of the Union-Vermont, New Jersey and Delaware-have the same motto "Liberty and Independence." Pennsylvania chose the same, but fancying herself somewhat purer than the above three sisters, prefixed the word "Virtue." That of "old Kentuck" is made out of about as good stuff as any: "United we stand, divided we fall." Virginia has not a bad one: "Sic Semper Tyrannis;" "so mote it be with all tyrants. Texas. Alabama, Ohio, and some others, have no mottoes; whether it is owing to their not deserving any, or because they find it difficult to find appropriate ones, who knows? A good motto for Ohio might be, "Readily coaxed, but not driven' -like its hogs and its women. What the eagle said to "Torpedo," would answer very well for Texas, "Go in and never die." As for California nothing could be more appropriate than Vigilantem et maximum puceum-"Wide awake and full of fleas." Far better than its Eureka-"We have found it," (the elephant.)

THE KANSAS GOVERNORS.

black man, a slave of Judge Elmore, and that drawing, in the following papers:—Augusta (Geo. Constitutionalist, New Orleans Delta, Mobile Reg. to his shop to he shaved. Just before Tom (that is the barber's name) got the official by the nose, that functionary said: "Look here, I want you to shave me by the month." "Well, massa, I don't know massa," stammered Tom, hesitatingly. "Well, why? why not Tom?" "Well, massa Gobernor, I don't mean no riz dispeck, but den, all the Gobernors ob dis Territory don't stay here but so short, and dey run away so fiss, and I'se not sure dat you be here a monf; and so, you see, I don't know, massa." THE PHRASE "LOG ROLLING."

The phrase is drawn from the clearing of forest land in a new country. The settler could himself cut down the trees, and cut them into lengths or logs. The next step was to roll them into heaps for burning, and that he could not do without help; so he called his neighbors to help him roll, and when they had a rolling he helped them. This was aptly applied to legislative action for the passage of laws for local measures. Vote for my bill and I will vote for yours. The phrase was probably western; it is certainly more than forty years old.

OUR MUSICAL FRIEND.

WEEKLY publication of SHEET MUSIC, suitable for the players and signers of the Home circle, and consisting of sixteen pages full folio size, stitched in a handsome cover. It contains all the popular dances of the day; arrangements all the popular dances of the day; arrangements from the most favorite operas; scenes, songs, ballads, airs. &c. An abundant supply of every thing that the popular taste demands; never too difficult, slways instructive, and ever fresh and delightful. The favor with which OUR MUSICAL PRIEND has been received by the public, and the commen-dations it has won from the Press, are guarantees of its worth. A work so cheap, accurate and elesame amount of music procured at the regular stores would cost at least twenty times what it costs in Our Musical Friend." OCOMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA CAPITAL OVER $250,000, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any other Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.

This Company commenced issuing Policie against loss or damage by fire, on the 16th of March, 1854, since which time over five thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thou sand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering pro-pects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for the Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States.

All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutuall chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: Christopher Neute R. H. Stabler, W. M. Turner, R.
